

Constant Changes Labs

Reflections / Conclusions:

I had a round orange, squishy, clay ball. Then, the physical property that changed was the shape. This change was caused by a "push" and a "pull". In science, we call this a force. This force was applied & applied by mechanical energy.